Their family grew to include three children, many grandchildren, and a plethora of good friends whom she made along her journey. When her husband could no longer fly she got her private pilot license so they could continue to travel. Maurine was also became an avid golfer and bridge player.

Maurine could be described as ambitious, ever-learning and very outgoing. Always with a smile on her face she loved her family and friends, whom she enjoyed spending time with. Maurine touched many lives during her time, and she will be deeply missed by all who had the chance to know her.
